

The gray section shown here is the portion of the cover document that wraps around the hard material to produce the hard cover. It should not contain important elements, however, the image should extend to the edge to ensure a consistent looking cover.

.25"

To be assured that no items of importance get “lost” going over the fold when the cover is prepared, please keep all pertinent elements at least .25” from the wrap line.

Important elements are acceptable in the white section of the spine.

The gray areas indicate the space where the gutter lies between the spine and the cover.
